Poem

A Teacher's Heart

They say me a 'teacher',
I say they are my life's feature....
They say I mould them right
I say I shape their sight....
They say I add mile to their way
I say they add smile to my day
They say they have freedom of expression
I say in mind will free them from depression....
They say they are 'OK' when their eyes don't seem fine
I say to myself, can read between the lines...
They say your lessons are best meditation
I say to my heart, that's the best medication....
They say you are special than anyone
I say to them without you I am just no one!
